Scottish Birds

The Journal of the Scottish Ornithologists' Club

Scottish Birds, the official journal of the Scottish Ornithologists' Club, publishes original material relating to ornithology in Scotland. Papers and notes should be sent to The Editor, Scottish Birds, 21 Regent Terrace, Edinburgh EH7 5BT.

One issue of Scottish Birds is published each year, in December. Scottish Birds is issued free to members of the Scottish Ornithologists' Club, who also receive the quarterly newsletter Scottish Bird News and the annual Scottish Bird Report.

The Scottish Ornithologists' Club was formed in 1936 to encourage all aspects of ornithology in Scotland. It has local branches which meet in Aberdeen, Ayr, the Borders, Dumfries, Dundee, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Inverness, New Galloway, Orkney, St Andrews, Stirling, Stranraer and Thurso, each with its own programme of field meetings and winter lectures. The Waterston Library at the Club's headquarters at 21 Regent Terrace, Edinburgh EH7 5BT is one of the most comprehensive ornithological libraries in Scotland, and is available for reference during office hours (Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm). A comprehensive stock of Scottish local bird reports is held at the headquarters and may be purchased by mail order.

Published by the Scottish Ornithologists' Club, 21 Regent Terrace, Edinburgh EH7 5BT.

Advice to Contributors

Authors should bear in mind that only a small proportion of the Scottish Birds readership is science-trained, and should aim to present their material concisely, interestingly and clearly. Unfamiliar technical terms and symbols should be avoided wherever possible and if deemed essential should be explained. Supporting statistics should be kept to a minimum. All papers and short notes are accepted on the understanding that they have not been offered for publication elsewhere and that they will be subject to editing. Papers will be acknowledged on receipt and will be reviewed by at least two members of the editorial panel, and in some cases also by an independent referee, before being accepted. They will normally be published in order of acceptance of fully revised manuscripts. The editors will be happy to advise authors on the preparation of papers.

Reference should be made to recent issues of Scottish Birds for guidance on style of presentation, use of capitals, form of references, etc. Papers should be typed on one side of the paper only, double-spaced and with wide-margins; two copies are required and the author should also retain one. Headings should NOT be underlined, nor typed entirely in capitals. Scientific names should follow the first text reference to each species and should follow Voous' 'List of Recent Holarctic Bird Species' as given in The British Birds' List of Birds of the Western Palearctic (1984).

Tables, maps and diagrams should be designed to fit either a single column or the full page width. Tables should be self-explanatory and headings should be kept as simple as possible, with footnotes used to provide extra details where necessary. Each table should be on a separate sheet. Maps and diagrams should be in Indian ink and drawn so as to permit reduction to half their original size. If necessary they may be submitted without lettering and accompanied by a photocopy showing the lettering required. Captions should be typed on a separate sheet. Relevant line-drawings (in ink) will be welcomed, as will photographs (preferably black & white glossy prints).

Authors are responsible for checking their own proofs and returning them promptly. Text changes (as distinct from correction of printer's errors) at the proof stage involve extra cost and will only be accommodated under exceptional circumstances.
